CHA launches Energy Saving CHP DVD

Clydebank Housing Association recently issued 336 tenants at their multi storey flats in Radnor Park, Clydebank with an Energy Saving Combined Heating & Power (CHP) DVD.

The DVD not only has step by step instructions on how to use the CHP heating system but is also full of energy saving tips for around the home. CHA Power Limited (CHAP), a wholly owned subsidiary company, was set up by Clydebank Housing Association in 2005 to provide energy-efficient and affordable heat and hot water to the residents of their multi storey flats in Radnor Park, Clydebank. The current weekly cost for the supply of unlimited heat and hot water is £8.31 including VAT.

CHA Power Limited was developed to enable the Association to replace tenants ageing and expensive electric storage heating systems. The CHP scheme reduces energy bills and combats both greenhouse gases and fuel poverty by using a heat network supplying more than one building or customer. The power station, located next to the flats, provides all seven multi-storey buildings with continuous heating and hot water for a fixed price per week. CHA also uses electricity from the CHP plant to power their 3 electric cars.
